Greenely Island, April 17 .- The German Junkers monoplane Bremen landed on Greenely island in the straits of Belle Isle Friday, the 13th, at 12:35 p. m., after a continuous flight of 36 hours and 35 minutes from Baldonnell airdome, Dublin. A blizzard was howling out of the east, northeast at the time, driving a blinding snow before it.

The flyers circled about the island lighthouse several times looking for a suitable place to come down. Finally deciding to land on a small lake about 400 yards from the beacon on the island. BODY OF MISSING SAVANNAH CLERK FOUND IN RIVER

Savannah, Ga., April 17.—(P)—The three-day search for J. Frank McNally, 33, clerk with the Central of Georgia railway here, ended tonight when his body was found floating in the Savannah river near the docks at the foot of Lincoln street.

McNally is believed to have fallen into the water between the steamer Clivedon and the dock to which it was tied, when he attempted to board the vessel about 12.45 o'clock Sunday morning. No marks of violence were found on the body, and there were no indications that he was hurt before he fell into the water.

Indictment in Death From Poisoned Milk Is Upheld by Court

Anyone selling milk that brings death to a consumer, after the product has been condemned by city health of ficals, can be indicted for voluntary manslaughter, the state supreme court ruled in a decision rendered Monday.

M. Leontas, a Savannah dairyman, was thus indicted in Chatham county in February, 1926, after the grand jury had found that Arling Tootle had died of poisoning after drinking milk from Leontas' dairy which previously had been condemned by Savannah health authorities acting under a city

The case came into Chatham superior court when, after Leontas had returned to Greece, forfeiting bail, his hondsman brought suit attacking the validity of the indictment. It was contended that the city ordinance regulating the sale of milk was unconstitutional. onstitutional.

The court, however, made absolute the order forfeiting the bond, holding the ordinance valid. The supreme court upheld this decision

Lively Ten Days' Happenings at Southern Business College

Graduates Going Out to Important Positions.

Eighteen positions opened to the pupils of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, and twelve were placed during the last ten days

A letter from a Cuban says that he and a friend will arrive in the United States and will enroll at the Southern Business College on the first of May The parent of a pupil writes: "I appreciate your notice that my daughter has been absent from school. This attention on your part is good. Her absence is due to sickness."

Another prospective pupil writes:
"I think that the Southern is the best out, and I am looking forward to a course in your school."

Still another writes: "Your school has been recommended to me very highly and I shall enjoy my course there, I am quite sure."

In a letter just received by one of the faculty from a former pupil in Pennsylvania we quote:

"I sincerely thank you for all you are done for me. My mastery of President, and Shorthand Teacher, and Reporter for 37 years.

"I sincerely thank you for all you have done for me. My mastery of shorthand was entirely due to your undying interest in not only one or two pupils, but all of them."

A former pupil called today and arranged to enter her sister tomorrow. It's a frequent occurrence for former pupils holding positions to enroll and pay the tuition of their brothers or sisters.

Another pupil has just enrolled who is the fifth member of the same family that have attended the Southern; and this forcefully reminds us that "A pleased patron is the best advertisement."

The field representatives, who are visiting the high schools all over the country, report that a larger number of seniors will enter the Southern Business College between June first and September 15th, than ever before in this school's history during a corresponding period.

BLACKBURN'S TRIAL

Lieutenant Colonel William P. Stokey, corps area engineer officer, of 334 Eighth street, N. E., has received orders to proceed to his home to await retirement on August 27, after 32 years' service. He left Monday on an accrued leave of absence which will extend to date of retirement.

Colonel Stokey was born in Ohio, on November 3, 1875. He entered the military academy in June, 1896, from which he was commissioned a lieutenant in the artillery branch or June 13, 1900. On January 18, 1902, he transferred to the corps of engineers, with which arm he has since served. During the world war, Lieutenant Colonel Stokey received the temporary rank of colonel on January 4, 1918, which he held until July 14, 1919.

Major Gustav H. Franke, corps area publicity officer, in addition to his other duties, has taken over the duties of the corps area engineer officer, effective April 16.

BUSINESS LEADER OF FORT VALLEY DIES LATE MONDAY

Fort Valley, Ga., April 17.—(Special.)—The funeral of A. H. Lubetkin, who died here at his home Monday night, will be held from Hart's undertaking parlors in Macon Wednesday morning.

Mr. Lubetkin was 58 years of age and had been a citizen of Fort Valley for 37 years, coming here from New York to engage in the mercantile business. He had been prominent in civic and social life here and was for a number of years a member of city council.

Tuesday when a brisk chase through north Fulton ended as the lead car took the curb at Juniper street and North avenue, deluging the driver with his own cargo.

A front wheel collapsing, the flying tins buried the fugitive, who kicked out from under them and fled. He was overhauled, however, later giving his name as Howard Wright, of a West Peachtree street address. He was released under a $500 bond.

County Officers Cates, Stovall. Hornsby and Donehoo made the arrest.

Interment will be in Wolff ceme-tery, Macon; a number of Fort Val-ley people will attend the funeral. The surviving members of the family are his widow, one son, J. P. Lubet-kin, of Fort Valley, and two daugh-ters, Miss Henrietta Lubetkin and Mrs. Morris Jacobson, of Waycross. Two grandchildren also survive.

Saved from trip to hospital

Doctor told this man how to avoid a common cause of rupture

LIKE so many, this man had a slight tendency to hernia. The doctor who examined him said there was no real rupture, only a weakness.

"Go easy," he warned, "and above all don't strain yourself in any way. One of the most common causes of rupture is excessive straining to relieve a con-gested system. Yet so few people ever suspect it. For one thing, take Nujol regularly. It will probably save you a trip to the hospital. I advise all my patients who've had abdominal operations to take it, too, to avoid the danger of another break."

Nujol, taken regularly, avoids this risk. It provides an easy, natural method of regulating body functions. Keeps every. thing normal without effort. It not only prevents the excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but aids in their

A surprising number of people men especially — are sus-ceptible to hernia. Take a tip from this man's experience and play safe. Take Nujol regularly. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Try it for 3 months and you'll never want to be without it again.

In good shape again

It certainly can do no harm to try it. Nujol contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. And it may save you real trouble. Be sure you get the genuine.

FOREST TREE STOCK

The executive committee of the Georgia state board of forestry has announced that a standard form of cooperative agreement for the growing and distribution of forest tree stock has been approved.

Georgia will have an annual allotment of $2,000 from federal aid funds, under the Clarke-McNary law, beginning with the fiscal year of July 1, 1928, for cooperative forest, nursery work under the supervision of the state forestry department. It is possible that state funds will be added later, but at present these federal funds will be received and disbursed through the state forester's office when cooperative agreements are properly signed.

If private, nurserymen in Georgia are interested in receiving this financial aid, this standard form of agreement is now offered them and they may receive a refund, under paign rounds in an airplane. I take keen pleasure in seeing a first-class mill, and as long as it is a clean one I can see no harm in it. But my wife as talked long and hard about my presence at the ringside and says that it is inconsistent for me to attend a prizefight on Saturday night and take up the collection in church on the following Sunday.

I really suspect that the lateness in my getting home has caused her complaint, but she says I set a bad example to growing boys. However, I would like your idea.

Boxing is an excellent sport for all St. Paul watched the physical con-

It is somewhat difficult to harmonize the boisterous atmosphere of the modern commercialized prize ring with the pious demeanor usually displayed when taking the offertory in church the following morning. I do not say it cannot be done, but it is difficult.

Under these conditions, the first cry may not occur spon-taneously, and it is up to the doctor to make the baby breathe. First, the baby must be kept warm, for the heat regulating function is as yet unde-veloped. Next the baby's lungs should be gently inflated for two or three seconds, three or four times a minute until full breathing is established. The most effective way to inflate the lungs is by the use of an inhalator containing oxygen with 5 per cent carbon dioxid. If this is not at hand, then the next best way is the good old-fashioned mouth to mouth insufflation, with air from the doc-tor's own lungs. This air contains approximately 5 per cent carbon

IN TEXTILE STRIKE Show Decreases

New Bedford, Mass., April 17 .- (P. Thirty thousand textile workers were idle here today in protest against a 10 per cent wage cut which became effective Monday in the mills of 27 corporations enagaged in the manufacre of cotton, silk and rayon goods. The strike started yesterday when, with the exception of a scattering few hundreds the employees elected to remain away from the mills. An entire absence of disorder marked the cessation of work.

On behaf of the Manufacturers' as ociation, Andred Raeburn, its secretary, declared that the mills would not open until further notice. He took the attitude that when the plants had opened in the morning the work-ers had not shown sufficient interest to encourage the manufacturers to attempt to operate.

W. E. E. Batty, secretary of the Loomfixers' union, at a strikers' meet-ing declared that many businessmen had promised to help the strikers. He attacked the contention of the manufacturers that competition had made the wage cut necessary. He said was impossibe to reconcile that statement with recent announcement of large stock dividends in severa lo-cal mills and with dividends as high s 20 per cent in the past 10 years

London, April 17 .- (P)-Rear Admiral Bernard St. G. Collard, central figure in the famous Royal Oak affair which involved the court-martialing of Captain Kenneth G. B. Dewar, and Commander H. M. Daniel, has been relieved of his command and placed on the retired list.

Announcement of this was made

The Royal Oak affair, first described by some London newspapers as a mutiny, had its inception at a dance aboard the battleship at Malta during which the admiral berated the bandmaster because of the playing of the ship's band. He also engaged in a controversy with Captain Dewar and Commander Daniel regarding various matters connected with the dance.

Subsequent testimony at a courtmartial at Gibraltar revealed that Commander Daniel had written a letter complaining against the actions of the rear admiral and read this letter in the ward room of the battleship. Captain Dewar accepted the letter and

In the ward room of the battlesing. Captain Dewar accepted the letter and forwarded it to Vice Admiral Sir Roger Keyes. The three officers finally were suspended from duty and Captain Dewar and Commander Daniel requested a court-martial.

The charges against them were actions subversive of naval discipline for their share in the controversy. Both were found guilty, several repri-manded and dismissed from their ships. Rear Admiral Collard did not request a court-martial and was not book form but not yet placed on the brought to arial.

Vital reasons why Frigidaire has outsold all other makes of electric refrigerators in Atlanta and throughout the country

Compressor and cooling coil are separate units. The Frigidaire Compressor and cooling coil are separate units. This means that the compressor can be placed at the bottom of the cabinet, the top of the cabinet, inside or outside of the cabinet, whichever will give the greatest service and prove most convenient and efficient.

Fits commercial needs

Because of the flexibility of its design, Frigidaire provides refrigeration for apartments, hotels, meat markets and all other retailers of food. It freezes as much ice as a user wants and freezes it quickly. It cools drinking water for factories, stores, schools and public buildings.

Choice of home owners

And at the same time, for homes of every size, Frigid aire offers electric refrigerators of outstanding beauty, with all mechanical parts completely enclosed, with the food storage shelves elevated from the floor, convenient to use, with quiet operation, economy in the use of current, and low prices.

Accessible, interchangeable motor ...

The motor which drives the Frigidaire compressor is easily accessible and removable. This neans that for each installation a motor is supplied which is of the exact voltage, frequency and power to give the utmost efficiency and economy in operation.

Low prices

Flexibility in the design of Frigidaire has broadened its market and has made the present low prices possible. More than half a million are in use. It is the choice of the majority.

THE TRUTH ABOUT BRAN

Thousands of people eat bran regularly for the healthful roughage it provides. It is a splendid practice. But be sure you are really getting all the roughage you need when you eat bran. Doctors say it takes 100% bran to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only accomplish part-way results. That is why they fail!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbled. Just two tablespoonfuls daily-chronic cases, with every

CEASED TO BE TROUBLED WITH GAS

"Didn't See a Well Day for Weeks-None of My Food Agreed With Me," He Says .- Now Well.

Kansas City, Mo .- "After each meal, distress would come on me, and I would suffer bad pain," says Mr. Peter Seeger, a Missouri Pacific railroad engineer, residing at 329 Elmwood street, this city.

Mr. Seeger explains that the pain seemed to come from indigestion, as he had a sensation of gas, or bloated feeling in his stomach. "I found that, by taking a pinch of Black-Draught, dry, after meals, I would be relieved,

"I would carry Black-Draught to work with me. I took it for about a year and a half. I had read of an-other railroad man whose health had been helped by the use of Black-Draught, and as my own symptoms were similar to his, I decided to try it.

"None of my tood agreed with me.

I would frequently taste what I ate, long after my meals, and I did not see a well day for weeks. I began taking a pinch of Black-Dranght after each meal, and kept this up for weeks. Graduelly the pain left me, and I began to feel better. I ceased to be troubled with gas, and could eat what I liked. "None of my food agreed with me. "Where Good Furniture Is Not Expensive"

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS. Temper causes grief and pain And loses more than it can gain. -Old Mother Nature.

"What finally happened to Shelly the Armadillo when Beauty the Ocelot had him?" demanded Peter Rabbit, his eyes popping out with excitement. Boomer the Nighthawk chuckled. "You never did see a fellow so upset as was Beauty the Ocelot," said he. "That cat was so beside himself with anger, because Shelly remained rolled up in that coat of shell of his, that he snarled and spit and made a regular spectacle of himself. He certainly was the maddest cat I have ever seen.

It wasn't for lack of trying, but somehow Beauty couldn't get hold anywhere. Then he tried walking off and lying down within jumping distance and keeping perfectly still. I guess he hoped that Shelly would think he had gone away. But Shelly didn't unroll. I guess he knew when he was well off. Then Beauty began to poke him with his paws. Then he began knocking him around. He got rougher and rougher. You see, his temper got shorter and shorter. Yes, temper got shorter and shorter. Yes, sir, he was letting his temper get the

But, though Shelly thumped the ground hard when he landed, he didn't unroll at bit. He was too smart for that. This made Beauty angrier than ever. He knocked Shelly this way and that way. Once more he got a paw under him and once more he threw him. This time once more he threw him. This time Shelly landed almost on his own doorstep, and this time he unrolled. Yes, sir, he unrolled like a flash and disappeared in his hole. My, my, my, my, how that cat did act! You see, he reached there just in time to put one paw on the end of Shelly's tail. Three Hurlers For 17 Blows

Auburn Bats Pound Out Two Homers, Double and Triple in Slugfest.

Auburn, Ala., April 17.—(Special.) Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets tasted their first Southern Conference defeat here this afternoon when the Auburn Tigers walloped three visiting hurlers for 17 hits and 15 runs, while Tech was making nine hits count for five runs.

The Tigers started in the very first

The Tigers started in the very first inning and scored six runs off five consecutive hits before the Jackets could check them. They continued to hammer the Jacket hurlers and fast increased their lead.

Wood, on the mound for the local outfit, held the Tech squad to nine well scattered hits while his mates walloped Clay's moundsmen. Included in the 17 hits gathered by the Plainesmen were homers, doubles and triples. Wood sent seven Jackets to the bench via the strikeout route.

The Tigers started in the very first inning and scored six runs of five (Kid) Herman.

Attaway Gets Decision in 10 Rounder; Herman Almost Out and Then Stages Great Comeback.

A large number of Atlanta's pugilistic citizenry filed into the Atlanta theater Tuesday night to see a fight. That has happened before, Two men have stepped into a ring before these same people and tapped their way through what was called a fight by some and several kinds of dirty.

There was plenty of punching by both principals in this last round. Herman hurt Attaway several times with his left. Attaway poked several rights and lefts to Hērman. Herman was coming back after every one had counted him out.

The eighth round was something on the order of the seventh. Except that Herman was improving and beginning to be bothersome. He staggered Attaway a couple of times. The ninth saw plenty of slugging by both parties and Herman getting a little stronger. He was still groggy and weaving around. That was partly due to Atland this bout was backed up by a good round of preliminaries. Marshall Cardwell, of LaGrange, showed that he has a good future ahead of him in kayoing Wingo Robinson, of Cleveland, in the fifth round. Robinson is old and fat, but still knows something. A Bedtime Story. (With Profound Apologies to Thornton Burgess.)

Uncle Eza Fann placed little Nellie comfortably on one knee and tiny Tommy on the other knee while he prepared to tell them their usual bedtime story. Nellie and Tommy cooed and howled with glee, for they were very fond of having Uncle Eza tell them bedtime stories.

"Well, children," said Uncle Eza in his best bedtime story tone, "I am going to tell you a sleep-time tale of the bad game of baseball tonight." This statement met with more signs of enjoyment, for the little folks liked nothing better than to hear Uncle Eza's great big voice in a story of baseball. Uncle Eza, you know, had been a great baseball player himself.

"Round Mr. Sun was rolling on his way to the great western ocean one day last week when all the little Crackers decided to do just as Papa Spiller had told them to do and go out to play with the wicked Volunteer children of Nashville. Now Papa Spiller did not know that the little Volunteer children were so bad or he would not have let the little Cracker children go over there to play. But they did go, and like all good little children do when they play with bad children, the little Crackers were terribly beaten.

"Papa Spiller was very sorry when he heard the story from Mr. Blueiay, who flew home with the news, and he immediately dispatched one of the little messenger boys to tell his children to come home. The Crackers came home, very much humbled by their sad experience with the naughty children away off in Tennessee, and one and all told Papa Spiller that they would never, never venture away from home again,

"Is that all the story?" sobbed little Nellie, for she dearly loved to hear Uncle Eza tell stories and she wasn't near ready for Mr. Sandman to come on his nightly visit. Little Tommy was nodding on his uncle's arm and picking sand from his eyes already, for Tommy had heard the story

"Well, Nellie," said Uncle Eza, always ready to humor the little girl at his knee, "Papa Spiller should have learned a lesson from the experience of his children in Nashville, but he forgot this incident in just a few days and sent the children away again." "And where did they go that time?" said little Nell, her blue eyes all alight with anticipation.

Uncle Eza settled back in his easy chair and while little Tommy dozed off he started to teil Nellie the rest of the story concerning the little Crackers and the big bad Bears of Mobile. At the mention of the word "Bears" little Nellie shook with fear for what might happen to the Cracker children, for Nellie was a kind-hearted little girl.

"The Crackers went into the den of the big bad Bears with all the courage you ever saw, but when they got off the choo-choo train in Mobile Big Papa Bear turned to the little Bears and said, "Gr---r, children, what shall be do do these little and said, "Gr--r, children, what shall be do do these little Crackers?" All the little Bears bared their teeth just as they had seen Papa do so many times and answered in chorus, "Gr-r-r-! Let's make stew of them for supper, Papa."

By this time little Nellie had reached such a stage of excitement that I Uncle Eza was afraid to tell all the details of the encounter with the Bears, so he stuttered a moment and finished by saying, "The little Crackers learned another lesson that they would never, never forget."

So Tiny Tom and Little Nell were trundled off to their beds and as Uncle Eza tucked the covers around their chins he heard Nellie say to Tommy, "Wasn't that a terrible story?" And he stayed long enough to hear Tommy reply sleepily, "That story was all the bunk, sister. I know the Crackers are better little children than all the Bears and Volunteers. They have better hitters, better fielders and —." But by that time Nellie had dropped off to dream about the terrible Bears and the poor Cracker children who had learned a lesson.

Double and Ragged Infiel Play in Seventh Give Bears Two Runs.

Mobile, Ala., April 17.—Whitey Glazner, steady right hander on the Mobile club, hurled his sceond shutout game at Hartwell field Tuesday afternoou in that many starts this season, the Adanta Crackers bowing to his prowess, 3 to 0. Just three Crackers gazed on second base in the game, the veteran white-haired boy from Jefferson county, Ala., dazzling the heavy sluggers of the visiting ball club when they had runners on the bases. Glazner was supported sensationally by Bill Narlesky, Bear shortstop who played a sparkling game, cutting off numerous hard hit balls that were labeled base hits.

Sherrod Smith, a left hander, formerly with the Cleveland Indians, opposed Glazner, and allowed less hits than Glazner, but two bases on balls that he issued and his own wild heave over second base in the seventh inning proved disastrous to him, the Bears scoring two runs in the later frame without the semblance of anything like a safe hit. The Crackers would have lost the game in spite of this as they failed to do any hitting in the pinches.

Manager Bert Niehooff of the Crackers who became ill Sunday night with fever and a severe cold watched the ball game from a seat near the Atlanta dugout.

Smith Tough Bird. Smith Tough Bird.

Pitcher Smith was a tough bird for the Bears to get to, having a runner on second in the first inning when Kimmick beat out an infield hit and stole second with one down, but the Cracker hurler halted Shaner and Mizeur to close this frame.

It was not until the third inning that these league-leading bruins cashed in a run. Smith issued a free trip to Cousineau, but he was forced by Narlesky after Ghaner fouled to Rhiel, who covered third base for the Crackers Tuesday, Gilbert working at second. Crackers Tuesday, Gilbert working at second. Kimmick scored the first run for the Bears with a smash down the left field foul line for a double. Kimmick passed out at the keystone when Poole broke up this rally by making a fine catch of Shaner's high foul back of first.

The Crackers had a chance for a run in the fifth when Pitcher Smith singled to short and took second when Narlesky heaved wild to first, but Frankie Zoeller ended this opportunity for the tailenders by rolling out, Narlesky to Niehaus.

Atlanta had a runner on first with two down in the sixth, but Cousineau's dead arm killed him off at second to end this chance.

Smith put himself in a hole in the Bears' seventh when he walked Niehaus, the first man. Eggert grounded to Smith, who, anxious to make a twin killing, threw the ball a mile high over second and before the relay reached Rhiel at third the Bears' big first baseman had scored. Rhiel pegged badly to second and Eggert reached third. When Blazner grounded to Smith down the first base line, Eggert beat the throw to the plate to score the second run of the inning.

Another Threat.

Another Threat. Another Threat.

The Crackers again threatened in the eighth when Smith singled to right field with one out and took second on an infield out, Eggert turning in a fast play to get Zoeller. Poole blasted the visitors' hopes for a runner by rolling to Eggert.

Again in the ninth the lowly Crackers had hopes when Gilbert singled off Glazner's gloved hand with a hot smash, but the Narlesky-Eggert combination checked any change for runs.

One Record to Stand

The snipers of sport have left few records that haven't been shot We have been informed that in time all the old marks must go. Maybe. And then maybe not. What about Cy Young's record of 508 major league victories? There are not so many around who can even pitch 508 big league games in a career. There was a time when Walter Johnson seemed to have an outside chance at Old Cy's figures. But after pumping his famous right arm for twenty-one years even the Coffeyville Cyclone had to stop firing far below Young's mark. Johnson couldn't get within sixty victories of Cy's count. Mathewson finished over a hundred victories below the prodigious mark of the Paoli Phenom. Alexander isn't in sight of 208 winning returns.

Ohio, with the hayseed shining his two-base blow that start.

I recall a certain game he

I recall a certain game he was working for Boston against Cleveland. He had then been pitching eighteen seasons. Cleveland had eight 300 hitters facing Young, the list embracing Lajoie, Flick, Bradley, Bay, Nig Clarke, Rossman, Turner and others who dallied between 320 and 400.

In that game Boston was leading 2 to 1. There were two out and Cleveland had runners on second and third, with Lajoie up. Here was the chance to pass Larry—after the modern method—and take a chance on the next one up. But that didn't happen to be Cy's method. He struck Lajoie out on four pitched balls. And the third strike was a fast curve that cut the corner of the plate. That was Cy.

If Mathewson, Johnson, Alexander Walsh and the others were unable to or come within sixty or a hundred games of Young, the chance any new arrival has to break his record is much more remote than either pole or a cross section of the moon.

Section of the moon.

Young worked in over 800 big league ball games. Some one must pitch forty games a year for over twenty years to equal that mark. You don't need any pad and pencil to figure the chance any modern pitcher has of grinding out this much work. Either the game has changed or pitching arms have. Young was effective against such hitters as Lajoie, Delehanty, Burkett, Anson, Jimmy Collins, etc., who were never known as cross-eyed set-ups.

They say that all old-time records

They say that all old-time records are to be wiped out. Well, let some one take good aim and shoot at Young's record of 508 big league victories. That's something to be wiped out if any soupbones, happen to feel in the mood.

Hard Matches Feature Day At Druid Hills

Rosalie Mayer, Medalist, I Forced to Extra Hole To Win Opener.

BY WHITNER CARY.

Just to show that her brilliant play in winning the low qualifying dent. Miss Rosalie Mayer continued her blistering attack on the fairways of Druid Hills golf course Tuesday in the first round of match play in the spring handicap tournament of the Atlanta Women's Golf association with such fury that Mrs. Helen Dargan Lowndes was froced out of competition at the end of 19 hard-fought holes. Other matches in the first flight saw Mrs. L. H. Beck triumph over Mrs. Dowman 1-up; Mrs. Tommle Wilson defeat Mrs. W. D. Doak 2-1, and Miss Margaret Maddox winning from Mrs. Ashley Taylor, 7-6. Turning one down to Miss Mayer, Mrs. Lowndes looked hopelessly beaten when she dropped the 10th and 12th to become three down with but six to go. New York, April 17.—For the seventh consecutive five-hour session the volume of trading on the stock exchange was over four million shares, with the tape in the fourth hour as much as 54 minutes late, causing increased uneasiness on the part of traders on the outside. General Motors again dominated the market opening at 193 down 1-8 and dropping to 189 1-8, carrying the rest of the market, especially industrial shares, with it. In the fourth hour the volume of trading quickly declined enabling the tape before the end of that hour to get within 20 minutes of what was going on on the floor. Part of the heaviest trading in the fourth hour was on a recovery from the bottom prices.

Realizing that something must be done if anything like the existing volume of business continues, officials of the stock exchange are now getting the views of members and prominent traders on the proposal for the time being to drop printing on the tape the amount of stock changing hands on each individual transaction, thus hoping to save between 15 and 20 per cent.

The elder P-bus and his wife died somewhere in the eighties, and John Julian inherited the business, and took to himself a wife. And he, too, was something of an oddity. He stood five feet three, and he ma.ried a woman of five feet eleven. If was said in jest by their intimates th.t. John Py-bus had to fetch the stepladder out of the shop when he wanted to kiss his wife. But her height was her only distinction, and it is more than probable that John Julian was disappointed in his marriage. Poor Edith Py-bus was both weak and argumentative, and she argued at the wrong moments. She set out to spoil the two boys there were many clashings. Not for nothing had John the head of a Roman emperor. And he was a Victorian. He had a sort of moral earnestness, an extraordinary sense of henor and of public duty, and, like his father, he was absolutely fearless. The mother, sentimental and flabby, had set herself with the boys against the father. She gave them sweets after their canings. She tried to smuggle their offences out of sight.

John Pybus had trouble with them from the time of their going to school, and as they grew taller and more full of the arrogance of the awkward age the trouble increased. They had inherited the concentrated, lower middle class snobbery of their mother; they had a londness; they quarreled; they purloined each other's ties and collars. Conrad was a bully. Both of them were perfectly familiar with the secrets of the shop across the way. In fact, at the age of seventeen Probyn was the possessor of a collection of indecent photographs that had to be hidden away under a loose board in his bedroom.

So that when his wife died, the two young bounders were put out into the young bounders were put

"Beastly place. The A. A. list is a farce."

His father was wondering whether a woman with that dainty and whimsical face could bring herself to bargain across the counter with a shopman. He felt a liking for the gentlewoman. She had smiled and looked at him and spoken. He was an old man His impulse was to accost her and to say—"That fellow's a rotter. Turn him adrift." But, then, Conrad Pybus was not exactly a rotter, but a person of property, and it was probable that a woman who could wear her clothes as the lady wore them had her own philosophy.

Weekly Report.

Expectation of an unfavorable report from the weather bureau tomorrow also was a factor, and there may have been some buying on belief that the boll weevil report would make a bullish showing.

The advance was checked by realizing around 20,19 for May and 19,94 for October, however, and publication of the boll weevil report, which evidently showed a smaller emergence than expected, was followed by increased offerings. offerings.

The off and closed at 19.63, compared with 19.56 at yesterday's close. The off and closed at 19.63, compared with 19.56 at yesterday's close of the set of advance of 4 to 8 points. The market opened easy in sympathy with lower Liverpool cables which reported a sharp reaction metadivance in Alexandria. A rather dry weather map brought out increased offerings and soon after the opening July contracts sold off to 19.31 and October 19.11. 8 to 11 points net down. These prices proved to be the lows of the session.

As the barometer lines on the map were believed to indicate unsettled weather and prices started on the upgrade and prices started on the upgrade and prices started on the upgrade and rumors of an impending government bull were liquidated by unfavo

When the weevil report was issued in the late afternoon trading it was interpreted to indicate a smaller emergence of the insect from hibernation than had been expected. This promoted heavy liquidation by early buyers which carried May contracts off to 19.63, July 19.47 and October 19.24, 31 to 33 points down from the highs. The market closed at these levels.

Cotton Briefs. New Orleans, April 17.—The first notice day for May deliveries will be April 25 in both the local and New York markets. The certificated stocks at all points have been decreased materially, pointing to more moderate tenders than were the cases in lanuary and March.

The British board of trade reports that 16,000,000 pounds of yarns were exported during March and 397,000,000 square yards of cloth against 19,000,000 pounds of yarns and 394,000,000 yards of cloth in March last year.

While it is certain that enough seed will be found for replanting it is considered very doubtful that this seed will be of the best quality.

Foreign Bonds.

VAST accumulation of automobile accident litigation today congests our courts, adding to the burden of taxpayers and retarding cruelly the determination of the claims of deserving but necessitous litigants.

There seems to be a popular impression that casualty insurance companies are partly responsible for this condition, that they are litigiously inclined, and that they delay settlements for the purpose of accumulating interest on their claim

Nothing could be further from the truth. Both the selfish and unselfish interests of the companies dictate a contrary course, for experience demonstrates that speedy adjustment of all meritorious claims produces an economic saving both to the companies and to the community.

As an earnest of its absolute sincerity in this position, The Metropolitan Casualty Insurance Company, which has always favored the principle of arbitration but has labored with the obvious difficulty of applying it to third party cases, hereby makes the following pledge to the American Bar:

A Pledge to the American Bar!

For an experimental period of at least one year, beginning June 1, 1928, or earlier if the effective machinery can be provided, The Metropolitan Casualty Insurance Company will consent to the immediate arbitration, under the standard rules of the American Arbitration Association, of any claim for damages for personal injuries growing out of an accident covered by a Metropolitan policy.

Every claim will be determined by impartial arbitrators to be agreed upon by the parties or to be appointed by the American Arbitration Association, National Headquarters, No. 342 Madison Avenue, New York City, N. Y.

The American Arbitration Association is a non-profit-making, public-serving membership corporation. Not one of its directors or officers profits from its work, but all are engaged in the public service of expediting the settlement of disputes. It has 3,170 arbitrators covering every state and more than 1,135 cities and towns.

Inasmuch as the usual policy provides limits of only $5,000-$10,000, and since the Metropolitan, in fairness to the assured, cannot control the procedure where the latter's excess liability is also involved, the offer is necessarily confined to cases within the $5,000-$10,000 limits.

"The American Arbitration Association has collaborated with the Metropolitan to the end that this important new step shall find ready ways and means to facilitate casualty insurance arbitration. It offers its further co-operation and facilities in the belief that this provision for immediate arbitral relief to those who sustain accidental injuries will not only serve greatly to ameliorate congestion of our courts, but will also prove one of the most constructive steps ever undertaken." LUCIUS R. EASTMAN, President.

last Wednesday did a good deal to induce active speculative selling.

Crumbling of outside support which of late had been forthcoming from constant new buying was a further bearish factor today in regard to wheat, and so likewise was an estimate that only 250,000 bushels of wheat from North America had been taken today for shipment to Europe. On the other hand, No. 2 red winter sold today at $2 a bushel both here and in St. Louis, 45c over Chicago May.

Corn upturns were ascribed mostly of undoing of spreads against sales time this year and California Petroleum 5s were moderately active a Corn upturns were ascribed mostly to undoing of spreads against sales of wheat. Another strengthening circumstance as to corn was the fact that hog values showed $1.25 gain compared with two weeks back. Oats advanced early to the highest price which Hay has reached yet this season, but eased later with other grain and as a result of profit-taking. There were reports that Illinois and Kansas oats had been damaged by freezing weather.

Provisions sagged on account of lard stocks here having increased more than was looked for.

To five men of the real "Go-Getter" type, and good moral standing, we can offer an unusually attractive connection in our bond department selling our PROFIT SHARING GOLD BONDS. Direct and definite leads and appointments furnished. Commission basis. No drawing account, but a good man can make big money quickly and surely.

This is one of the cleanest and strongest bond issues ever offered to the public of Georgia, and is backed by a Company strongly financed, and managed by local men who will stand the most rigid investigation as to financial strength and past business record.

The Corporation issuing these bonds is now on excellent paying basis and showing net earnings at a rate of over three times the amount necessary to meet the interest on the present bond issue.

the largest attendance of any class, and another prize will go to the alumnus coming from the farthest distance. The committee expressed the belief that the reunion this year would surpass in numbers the reunion of the "2s" and "7s" of last June which brought together more than 500 alumni.

Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory, in his annual message to the association, described the reason for his refusal of the offer of the presidency of the University of Florida recently made him as the "pull of Emory at his heart," and continued:

Now Understands "Pull."

"Many times in the past have Emory's faculty members been given offers of better positions at other schools, and I did not understand why they chose to remain at Emory until the same club struck me in the face. his housekeeper only.

Montana insisted he "did not care for any more publicity." The attor-ney, however, advised him to present his argument to the judge when the case comes up Thursday morning. Police arrested the woman at Montana's home after the wrestler had telephoned for their help. His face bore marks of an assault, officers said. Montana charged she belabored him with a slipper. Mrs. Montana had a black eye.
